3. Do I need to file Vermont taxes?

The criteria for who must file in Vermont is the following:

- A Vermont Income Tax Return must be filed by a full-year or a part-year Vermont resident or a nonresident if you are required to file a federal income tax return, AND
- You earned or received more than $100 in Vermont income, OR
- You earned or received gross income of more than $1,000 as a nonresident. Read Vermont law at 32 V.S.A. § 5861 and § 5823(b) for information on sources of income.

4. What Vermont and federal forms do I need to file my personal income tax?

Federal: The federal income tax form is the Form 1040 or 1040EZ or 1040A. There are a number of schedules that may be necessary to complete in addition to Form 1040. More forms are found at <https://www.irs.gov/forms-instructions>. For more information, see www.irs.gov.

Vermont: The Vermont personal income tax return is Form IN-111. There are a number of schedules and worksheets that may be necessary to complete in addition to Form IN-111. More forms are found at <http://tax.vermont.gov/tax-forms-and-publications/individuals>. For more information, see www.tax.vermont.gov.

5. What is the due date for Vermont income tax returns?

The due date is usually April 15, but that date can change depending on whether the 15th falls on a weekend or holiday. The due date is the same for both federal and Vermont returns. To see the current due date, visit <http://tax.vermont.gov/content/individual-income-tax-return-due-1>.

Vermont Income Tax Booklet and Forms

6. Does my library, town clerk, or post office have the Vermont Income Tax Return booklet or Vermont tax forms?

The Department of Taxes no longer distributes the booklet or forms in bulk to libraries, town clerks, or post offices. Why? The number of people who are e-filing their returns grows each year, and the demand has shifted away from paper filing. The Department believes it is a more efficient use of taxpayer dollars to offer electronic copies of booklets and forms for download and to mail materials only when requested.

The Department encourages e-filing because there are fewer errors in e-filed returns, and e-filed returns are processed more quickly than paper returns. Taxpayers who e-file generally will receive their refunds more quickly than taxpayers who file using paper and mail them.

7. Why didn't I get a booklet or forms in the mail?

The Department no longer sends the booklet or forms automatically to taxpayers. This year, however, the Department sent 3,004 booklets to taxpayers who have filed using the forms in the booklet for the past two consecutive years. This is a trial to see if this reduces phone calls and email volume to the Department's forms fulfillment.

8. How do I get Vermont income tax booklets or forms?

There are four ways to obtain booklets or forms:

- Download fillable PDF forms and instructions at <http://tax.vermont.gov/tax-forms-and-publications/individuals>
- Order forms using an online form at <http://tax.vermont.gov/form-request>
- Order forms by emailing tax.formsrequest@vermont.gov
- Order forms by phone by calling 802-828-2515 or (toll free) 855-297-5600
